

Patrick Patterson

FACILITATOR & EXECUTIVE COACH

📍 Gilbert, Arizona

Education

Brigham Young University

🎓 *Bachelor of Arts, Communications –
Human Resources Development*

Patrick is a seasoned Performance/Process Guide and Facilitator Extraordinaire with over 25 years of experience in people and process development. Known for his energy, enthusiasm, skill, and insight, Patrick consistently earns high ratings from participants in his presentations. His expertise spans professional services sales and marketing, leadership development in partnership with world-class programs like Franklin Covey Company, and quality and continuous improvement initiatives.

Patrick plays an integral role in leading and coaching groups for The Growth Partnership’s CRoPs Practicum, where he also serves on their facilitation team. With more than 18 years of training and coaching experience in the accounting industry across North America, Patrick brings a wealth of knowledge to his work. His career includes eight years in University Continuous Improvement at Arizona State University, three years as a training and development consultant for hotel resorts in Nevada and Arizona, and eight years as faculty for a Fortune 100 company.

Patrick’s expertise adds tremendous value to any training organization, helping to cultivate effective leadership and operational excellence.

A native of Arizona, Patrick was born in the Valley of the Sun and raised in Northern Arizona. He attended Mesa Community College for two years before serving an 18-month mission as a church volunteer in the Dallas/North Texas area. Patrick now resides in Gilbert, Arizona with his wife, Kristina. They have three sons, Jon, Cole, and Adam, as well as a daughter, Jessie.

PO Box 601 | Mont Alto, Pennsylvania 17237
thegrowthpartnership.com